CONGRATULATIONS TO DIKEMBE MUTOMBO ON BEING INDUCTED INTO THE NAISMITH HALL OF FAME!

Mutombo was drafted by the Nuggets with the fourth overall selection in the 1991 NBA Draft and spent five seasons with Denver from 1991-1996. He averaged 12.9 points, 12.3 rebounds and 3.80 blocks in 391 games. His Nuggets resume is filled with awards and accolades including three NBA All-Star selections, NBA All-Rookie First Team (1991-92), NBA Defensive Player of the year (1994-95) and leading the NBA in blocks in three straight seasons ('93-94; '94-95; '95-96). Mutombo lying on the floor as the buzzer sounded after his eighth-seeded Nuggets became the first team in NBA history to upset a number one seed remains one of the most iconic moments in Nuggets history.

E. STANLEY KROENKE

Owner, Kroenke Sports & Entertainment, LLC

Mr. E. Stanley Kroenke became owner of the Denver Nuggets on July 6, 2000. Under his leadership the Nuggets have been one of the most successful teams in the NBA. From 2003 through 2013, the Nuggets were one of only two NBA teams to make the playoffs in all 10 seasons, including a thrilling run to the Western Conference Finals in 2009. Kroenke has overseen two Executive of the Year winners as well as one Coach of the Year award.

From 2006 to 2011, the Nuggets enjoyed their most successful five-year span in franchise history. Denver averaged 50.4 wins per season during this stretch, earned two Northwest Division titles and won 50+ games in four consecutive years for the first time in team history.

In addition to this unprecedented stretch, the Nuggets also enjoyed a single season of unmatched excellence in 2013. Denver won a franchise-record 57 games, including an all-time team best 15-game winning streak in March 2013. The Nuggets excelled in many areas that season, but most impressive was their 38-3 mark at Pepsi Center, the best home record in Denver franchise history.

In the summer of 2011, Kroenke appointed Josh Kroenke team President and Governor. There were additional changes in the near future, as the Nuggets hired Tim Connelly as General Manager and Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations in July 2013 and named Michael Malone as Head Coach in June 2015.

The Colorado Avalanche, also under Kroenke's ownership, remain one of the most accomplished hockey clubs in the NHL. In the team's first season under his ownership (2000), the Avalanche hosted the NHL All-Star Game, won the Presidents' Trophy, and defeated the New Jersey Devils to win the Stanley Cup, the second in franchise history (1996). The Avalanche have won four division championships under Kroenke's watch, and during his first five years of ownership they sold out every home game and went on to post an NHL-record 487 consecutive game sellout streak. Additionally, the 2015-16 hockey season will feature yet another landmark event under Kroenke's ownership with the Avalanche hosting the Coors Light NHL Stadium Series outdoor game on Feb. 27, 2016 at Coors Field.

Off the court, one of Kroenke's primary focuses has been the Colorado community. More than $16 million in contributions have been made to Colorado charities through Kroenke Sports Charities and the Denver Nuggets and Colorado Avalanche Community Funds. The Nuggets continue to be a strong supporter of youth basketball in the State of Colorado through initiatives such as donating to youth basketball programs and providing numerous youth camps to help teach the game to local children.

Kroenke Sports & Entertainment, Kroenke's Denver-based company, owns Major League Soccer's Colorado Rapids and the National Lacrosse League's Colorado Mammoth. In 2007 the Rapids hosted the MLS All-Star Game and were chosen to again host the event this past season in 2015. The soccer club's most successful campaign came in 2010, when they won the MLS Cup Championship and were honored at the White House for their achievement. The Mammoth has been a playoff participant in 12 of its 13 seasons and won the NLL championship in 2006. The Mammoth also hosted the NLL All-Star Game in 2004 and 2009.

In June 2011, Kroenke became the majority shareholder of Arsenal FC, the storied English Premier League football club. The St. Louis Rams won the Super Bowl in 2000 while Mr. Kroenke was a co-owner; he became the team's principal owner in August 2010.

Overall, the Nuggets, Avalanche, Rapids and Mammoth have made 36 playoff appearances, won three league championships and hosted five All-Star Games since 2000-01. Arsenal recently won the 2014 FA Cup and has qualified for the Champions League in 17 consecutive seasons.

In addition to his success as an owner, Kroenke has been an innovator in television programming. In September 2004, Kroenke launched Altitude Sports & Entertainment, a 24-hour regional television network that is the broadcast home for the Nuggets, Avalanche, Mammoth and Rapids. Altitude also airs professional, collegiate and high school sporting events throughout the Rocky Mountain region. KSE acquired the Outdoor Channel in May 2013. The independent cable network is received by nearly 40 million U.S. households, making it the largest outdoor TV footprint in the country.

In 2014 KSE added to its outdoor media holdings with the acquisition of Sportsman Channel, which reaches more than 36 million U.S. households, along with a number of well-known outdoor enthusiast print and digital publications. Kroenke has also owned a 50-percent stake in the World Fishing Network since 2011, but in June 2015 purchased the remaining interest and now owns 100% of the network.

Pepsi Center, a KSE-owned facility and the largest indoor arena, event center and concert venue in Colorado, is the home arena for the Nuggets, Avalanche and Mammoth, seating 19,155 for basketball and 18,007 fans for hockey.

On April 7, 2007, KSE opened Dick's Sporting Goods Park, one of the largest soccer-specific complexes in the world. The state-of-the-art sports facility sits on more than 160 acres in Commerce City, CO, and seats 18,000 fans for field sports and up to 27,000 for concerts. KSE also owns the Paramount Theatre, a historic landmark in downtown Denver, and through Peak Entertainment, LLC, a joint venture between KSE and AEG Live Rocky Mountains, co-manages 1STBANK Center in Broomfield, CO, a multi-use arena accommodating up to 6,500 people for a variety of events. Pepsi Center, the Paramount Theatre and 1STBANK Center are home to more than 300 events annually, including world renowned acts such as Garth Brooks, U2, Madonna, Taylor Swift, Phish, Aerosmith and Bruce Springsteen.

Kroenke's enthusiasm and vision ensure that Denver will continue to be the top entertainment destination in the Rocky Mountain region for generations to come. Local media outlets have consistently named Kroenke one of the most significant people in the Denver arts and entertainment community, saying "no other person entertains more people more often."

Kroenke is chairman and owner of The Kroenke Group, a private real estate investment and development company with properties located throughout the United States and Canada. Over the past four decades, he has built a reputation as one of the nation's leading real estate developers.

A member of the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame, Kroenke holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Missouri. In addition to their son Josh, who is also President and Governor of the Nuggets, Stan and his wife, Ann, have a daughter, Whitney, an award-winning documentary film producer.

JOSH KROENKE

President & Governor, Denver Nuggets

Since joining the Denver Nuggets front office in 2007, team President and Governor Josh Kroenke has established himself as a highly regarded executive while overseeing one of the most successful stretches in franchise history. In his role with the Nuggets, Kroenke is involved in every aspect of day-to-day operations and represents the team at NBA ownership meetings.

During Kroenke's tenure, the Nuggets adapted to numerous changes to win at least 50 games in five straight non work-stoppage seasons from 2007 to 2013. They also advanced to the 2009 Western Conference finals and captured two Northwest Division titles during that span.

Kroenke, 35, was named Vice President of Team Development in 2007 and moved into his current role as President and Governor in 2010. In addition to his duties with the Nuggets, he serves as President and Governor of the Colorado Avalanche (National Hockey League) and Alternate Governor for the Colorado Rapids (Major League Soccer). In addition to his roles with the Nuggets, Avalanche, and Rapids, Kroenke works closely with KSE executives on multiple business operation issues, ranging from finance to marketing. In 2014, Kroenke was named to the Sports Business Journal's prestigious "Forty Under 40" list. The annual list honors the most promising young executives in sports business under the age of 40.

During the 2010-11 season, Kroenke helped orchestrate one of the biggest trades in league history, completing a three-team, 13-player deal with the New York Knicks and Minnesota Timberwolves on Feb. 22, 2011. Kroenke and the Nuggets front office continued to improve its roster through the draft and the trade market, and the Nuggets went on to win a team-record 57 games during the 2012-13 season. It marked the 10th straight year Denver reached the playoffs – the second-longest active streak in the NBA at the time.

Over the past several seasons, Kroenke has ushered in new eras for both Nuggets basketball and Avalanche hockey. The Nuggets added to their young, energetic core in 2013 by hiring first-year General Manager/Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations Tim Connelly and in 2015 Kroenke and Connelly hired Michael Malone to be the franchise's new head coach. In the summer of 2013, the Avalanche re-enlisted legends from their Stanley Cup championship teams by hiring Hall of Fame center Joe Sakic as Executive Vice President of Hockey Operations and Hall of Fame goaltender Patrick Roy as the team's Head Coach/Vice President of Hockey Operations. The Avalanche responded by winning the Central Division and reaching the playoffs for the first time since 2010. Their 112 points were the most by the club since their Stanley Cup Championship season in 2000-01. Kroenke, in conjunction with the National Hockey League, was instrumental in bringing the 2016 Coors Light NHL Stadium Series game to Denver. The event, which will feature the Avalanche and the Red Wings playing at Coors Field on Feb. 27, 2016, will be the first ever NHL outdoor game in the State of Colorado.

Athletic competition has always been a passion for Kroenke, who attended the University of Missouri on a full basketball scholarship. He was a contributor during Missouri's trip to the Elite Eight as a sophomore in 2002, and he earned Academic All-Big XII First Team honors while serving as team captain during his junior and senior seasons. After graduating with a degree in financial management, Kroenke completed a six-month internship with the NBA's League Office working in its Player Development Department. Upon finishing his internship, Kroenke worked as an underwriter for Lehman Brothers in their Global Real Estate Group where he assisted with the debt underwriting and securitization of numerous commercial real estate transactions.

Away from the Avalanche and Nuggets, Kroenke serves on the Board of Directors for Arsenal Football Club in London and on the Board of Strategic Development for the Trulaske College of Business at the University of Missouri. Kroenke is an active supporter of KSE charities and is involved in several other charitable endeavors, including the Todd Peglow Memorial Scholarship Fund at the University of Missouri. He is also a major supporter of the Playing For Change Foundation, which was co-founded by his sister, Whitney, and benefits children worldwide by building schools that specialize in teaching music and arts.

TIM CONNELLY

General Manager & Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations

Tim Connelly begins his third season as the Denver Nuggets' general manager and executive vice president of basketball operations after being hired to this role in July 2013. Connelly works closely with team president Josh Kroenke in all aspects of team and organizational matters as they aim to keep the Nuggets among the NBA elite.

Connelly, 38, spent the previous three seasons with New Orleans as their assistant general manager before coming to Denver. His duties included scouting, draft preparation, trade negations, player contracts and other aspects related to day-to-day operations.

Prior to his time with New Orleans, Connelly spent 10 years with the Washington Wizards organization where he rose to director of player personnel. In Washington, his role included overseeing scouting, salary cap and database management, player evaluation responsibilities, as well as assisting the vice president of player personnel with all front office duties.

The Baltimore product began working for the Wizards as an intern in the basketball operations department in 1996, and after his graduation from DC's Catholic University in 1999, Connelly was named to the Wizards staff as assistant video coordinator. In 2000, Connelly became a full-time scout for Washington, and later assumed the head scouting role. During his four-year stint as a scout for the Wizards, Connelly's travels have taken him across five continents to identify the top talent in the basketball world.

Connelly's service to the game of basketball has spanned the globe in recent years. He currently serves on the board of GEN Basketball Academy, a Sarajevo-based academy funded by NATO, and has assisted with their youth camps. Connelly also worked in Moscow, Russia in September 2012 as part of the NBA's "Basketball Without Borders" program. Connelly's first experience with the program was in the summer of 2006 in South Africa. That same summer he was involved with the Seed Academy in Dakar, Senegal. Additionally, in the summer of 2007, Connelly visited Dublin, Ireland to help raise youth awareness of cultural diversity and integration through the sport of basketball, and to work with the Irish federation on future basketball-related initiatives. Connelly has also visited England with his brother Pat as part of their personal efforts to aid the globalization of basketball.

A graduate of Towson Catholic High School, Connelly has aspirations to further his involvement in grass-roots basketball programs in his hometown of Baltimore. He is one of seven children, having four brothers and two sisters. Each of Connelly's four brothers -- Joe, Pat, Dan and Kevin -- played basketball at Towson Catholic, the powerhouse Baltimore program, and their love of the game has not faded. His brother Pat was named the Phoenix Suns assistant general manager in 2013.

Connelly and his wife Negah recently hosted the inaugural Mile High Ping Pong Challenge benefitting the Doreen Katz Memorial Cancer Foundation. The event raised money for children whose parents are battling cancer by providing grants for education and therapy.

Connelly and his wife Negah reside in Denver with their newborn daughter.

PETE D'ALESSANDRO

Sr. Vice President of Business and Team Operations

Pete D'Alessandro returns to Denver after spending the past two seasons as the General Manager of the Sacramento Kings. In his role as Sr. Vice President of Business and Team Operations, D'Alessandro will assist team President Josh Kroenke in all areas of the organization.

He spent two years (2010-12) as the Advisor to the Executive VP of Basketball Operations and one season (2012-13) as the Nuggets' Vice President of Basketball Operations. D'Alessandro assisted in the development of all basketball operations strategies as well as the management of day-to-day basketball activities with a focus on trade and free agent negotiations, salary cap management and collective bargaining agreement rules and regulations.

From 2004-2008 D'Alessandro worked for the Golden State Warriors. Initially hired prior to the 2004-2005 season as director of basketball operations, he was promoted to assistant general manager shortly after the 2006-07 season.

D'Alessandro began his career in basketball from 1986-90 when, as a student at St. John's University, he served as video coordinator for the men's basketball team under hall of fame coach Lou Carnesecca. From 1994-96, he briefly entered the political arena, ultimately serving as the campaign manager for New York State Congressman Rick Lazio's successful re-election to the House of Representatives.

After his stint in politics, D'Alessandro returned to the sports world in 1997, working for a Washington, DC-based sports agency. For seven years, he represented both NBA and International basketball players before being hired in 2004 by then Warriors basketball chief and current hall of famer Chris Mullin.

Prior to his announcing career, Marlowe excelled in athletics, playing basketball and volleyball at San Diego State University. In 1976 and 1978 he was voted the Most Valuable Player by USA Volleyball. Marlowe's athletic career culminated as captain of the gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Volleyball team in 1984. The athletic honors continued with his induction into both the San Diego State Aztec Hall of Fame and the California Beach Volleyball Hall of Fame in 1994.

In the offseason, he resides in Denver, with his wife and two daughters.

SCOTT HASTINGS

Television Analyst

The 2015-16 season marks Scott Hastings' 33rd year associated with the NBA, either as a player or a broadcaster. He has been covering NBA games as a member of the media since 1993, including 20 seasons with Denver and four seasons with TNT. This will be his 17th straight season providing insight to Nuggets telecasts.

An 11-year veteran of the NBA, Hastings was a member of the 1989 league champion Detroit Pistons and played for Denver from '91-93. A four-year letterman at Arkansas, Hastings was named Honorable Mention All-American as a senior in '82 and left as the school's second all-time leading scorer behind Sidney Moncrief with 1,779 career points (now ranks fourth all-time).

He was also recently inducted into both the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame and the state of Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame. Originally drafted by the New York Knicks with the 29th selection of the 1982 NBA Draft, Hastings also played professionally for Atlanta and Miami during his career.

One of the most well-known media personalities in the Denver market, Hastings has co-hosted a daily sports talk radio show for the last 20 years and served as the Denver Broncos radio color analyst for nine seasons.

Hastings welcomed his new baby daughter Eleanor Grace to the world in 2014.

RADIO BROADCASTING

JASON KOSMICKI

Radio Play-By-Play Announcer

Jason Kosmicki enters his 21st season with Kroenke Sports Enterprises. After serving numerous roles in the radio department, Kosmicki has been the voice of the Denver Nuggets for the last eight years.

"Koz" moved back to the states at age 11 after spending seven years living in Germany. He relearned the English language and eventually attended the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

While in college, he served as Sports Director of the campus radio station and called play-by-play action for "just about any sport imaginable," including football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, volleyball, softball, swimming and even the Sigma Tau Gamma fight night (boxing).

His athletic career peaked in high school where he was a four-year letterman in football and basketball and two years in golf. But as Koz is quick to point out: "It's not that impressive; we had 60 kids in our high school."

After college, Koz landed radio stints in Eau Claire, WI (where on his first week he did play-by-play for a curling tournament), Minneapolis, Washington D.C., Houston, Corpus Christi and Colorado Springs before making his way to the Denver area.

In his free time, Koz enjoys golfing and fishing at Lake McConaughy. The Nebraska native follows his home state Cornhuskers and resides in Indian Hills. His daughter Jacque is a senior at CU Denver.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT

Western Conference Eastern Conference

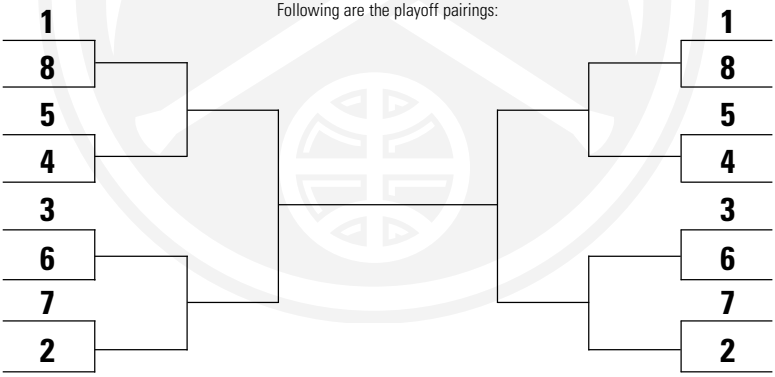
Following are the playoff pairings:



1. Sixteen teams qualify for the playoffs: Eight teams from each conference, ranked 1-8 based on overall record.
2. All rounds of the playoffs shall be a best-of-seven series including the NBA Finals. All teams will participate in the first round; there are no byes.

Achilles Tendon – The thick tendon at the distal portion of the calf that connects the gastrocnemius (calf) muscle to the heel.

Aerobic – Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen.

Anaerobic – Exercise without the use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercise.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) – A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint.

Anti-inflammatory – Any agent that prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Arthroscopy – A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of the damage or confirm diagnosis.

Atrophy – To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Biceps – Muscles on the front of the upper arm responsible for flexing the elbow and shoulder.

Bone Scan – An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bone injury. A bone scan is particularly useful in diagnosing a stress fracture.

Bruise – A discoloration of the skin as a result of an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.

Bursa – A fluid-filled sac located in areas of the body where friction is likely to occur, for example between a tendon and the underlying bone.

Cartilage – Smooth, slippery substance preventing the ends of bones from rubbing together.

Chondromalacia – Roughening of the articular cartilage. Best known for roughening of the on the underside of the patella, which can occur in any patellofemoral injury.

Concussion – Jarring injury of the brain.

Contusion – A tissue injury caused by a direct blow.

Cyst – Abnormal sac containing liquid or semisolid matter.

Dehydration – State resulting from loss of body fluid where fluid output (sweating) exceeds fluid intake.

Dislocation – Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Fracture – Breach in continuity of the bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress and transverse.

Groin Strain – Strain to the muscles that work to adduct the leg.

Hamstring – Group of muscles that run from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. The hamstring muscles work to flex the knee and extend the hip and are often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of flexibility.

Hip Pointer – Contusion to the iliac crest.

Hyperextension – Extreme extension of a limb or body part.

Inflammation – The body's natural response to injury in which the involved site may display various degrees of pain, swelling, heat, redness, and/or loss of function.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging – Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc, and meniscus injuries.

Medial Collateral Ligament (MCL) – Ligament on the medial aspect of the knee that connects the femur to the tibia and provides medial stability to the joint.

Meniscus – Crescent-shaped cartilage located within the knee that works to absorb weight and provide stability.

Metatarsals – Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Microfracture Surgery – An orthopedic surgical technique that can help restore knee cartilage by creating tiny fractures in the adjacent bones, causing new cartilage to develop. It can be used to treat both degenerative knee problems as well as cartilage injuries, and has gained a high profile in the sports world in recent years.

Patella – The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as to increase the mechanical advantage and force-generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis – Inflammation of the patellar ligament; also known as jumper's knee.

Plantar Fascia – The tight band of connective tissue in the arch of the foot.

Plantar Fasciitis – Inflammation of the plantar fascia; associated with overuse or acute foot injuries.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) – A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that prevents backward displacement of the tibia.

Quadricep Muscles – A group of four muscles in the thigh that works to extend the knee.

Reconstruction – Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materials.

Rotator Cuff – Group of four shoulder muscles responsible for moving the shoulder in internal and external rotation and assisting with overall shoulder stability.

Shin Splint – A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the shin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Spasm – A sudden, violent and involuntary muscle contraction.

Sprain – A twisting, stretching, pulling or tearing of a ligament.

1st Degree: A stretching but no tearing of a ligament. Athlete may either return to play immediately or will miss very little activity.

2nd Degree: A partial tear of a ligament. Bracing may be required. Athlete may miss one to four weeks.

3rd Degree: A complete tear of the ligament. Depending upon the ligament involved, bracing or even surgery may be required. Athlete may be out of activity from three weeks to one year or longer.

Sternum – The breast bone.

Strain – The stretching, pulling or twisting of a muscle or tendon.

1st Degree: A stretching but no tear of the muscle or tendon. Athlete may either return to play immediately or will usually miss very little activity.

2nd Degree: A partial tear of a muscle or tendon. Athlete may miss one to four weeks.

3rd Degree: A complete tear of a muscle or tendon. Depending upon the muscle or tendon involved surgery may be required. Athlete may be out of activity from three weeks to one year or longer.

Stress Fracture – A hairline break in a bone usually caused by overuse.

Subluxation – Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can be returned to its normal position without formal reduction.

Tendinitis – Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, usually caused by chronic overuse.

Triceps – Muscle on the back of the upper arm that is responsible for extending the elbow and shoulder.

Ultrasound – An electrical modality that transmits sound waves through an applicator into soft tissue in order to heat the area.

40 BYRON BECK

Jersey Number Retired: December 16, 1977

Byron Beck's name can be found next to the word "first" in several places in the Nuggets history books. He was the first player signed by the original Denver Rockets franchise in 1967 and fittingly, his was the first number retired by the Nuggets.

Beck, who played for the Rockets/Nuggets from 1967-77, was one of the best pure shooters in ABA history, and his sweeping hook shot was a team trademark for its first 10 years.

The two-time ABA All-Star (1969; '76) never averaged more than 14.5 points per game in a season; nonetheless, he stands in sixth place on the Nuggets all-time scoring list (8,603) - a true reflection of his consistency. In addition, he ranks second in rebounds (5,261) and third in games played (747).

Beck always stepped up his play at crunch time. In the 1973 ABA Playoffs, Beck averaged nearly 20 points per night. In 1976, he helped lead the Nuggets to the ABA Finals. Beck appeared in 66 playoff games with Denver, posting a 12.8 scoring average - more than a point per game higher than his career regular season average.

The former University of Denver star was a fan-favorite and his work in the community earned him considerable respect off the court. Beck was the leading Nugget in personal appearances and he was the Denver sports co-chairman for Labor Day's Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

44 DAN ISSEL

Jersey Number Retired: April 5, 1985

The name Dan Issel became synonymous with the Denver Nuggets during his playing days from 1975-85 and it still is today. Nicknamed "The Horse", Issel is one of the most popular sports figures in Colorado history.

Issel never failed to respond when duty called and was one of the most durable players in pro basketball history. In his 15-year pro career, Issel played in 1,218 of 1,242 possible games.

When he retired in 1985, he left as the Nuggets all-time leading scorer and rebounder after notching 16,589 points and 6,630 boards. He still ranks among the top five in nearly every statistical category on the Nuggets all-time list.

One of the most prolific scorers in basketball history, Issel ranks eighth on the combined ABA/NBA all-time scoring list with 27,482 points. He trails only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Karl Malone, Michael Jordan, Wilt Chamberlain, Julius Erving, Moses Malone and Shaquille O'Neal.

There was more to Issel than his on the court prowess, however. He was also a leader in the community. In 1985, the Professional Basketball Writers Association of America recognized that and presented Issel with the J. Walter Kennedy Award for community service.

In 1992, Issel returned to the Nuggets, this time as their head coach. He orchestrated a tremendous turnaround, taking a club that had won just 44 games in two years prior to his arrival and leading them to the NBA Playoffs in just two seasons. He re-joined the franchise in 1998 as General Manager and subsequently served as President and Head Coach until 2001.

"The Horse", a 1976 ABA All-Star and a '77 NBA All-Star, became the first Nugget to be elected into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1993.

33 DAVID THOMPSON

Jersey Number Retired: November 7, 1992

Before there was Michael Jordan, there was David Thompson. Nicknamed "Skywalker", Thompson dazzled Nuggets fans from 1975-82 with his incredible leaping ability, crowd-pleasing dunks and seemingly effortless scoring ability.

In his seven seasons, Thompson racked up 11,992 points - good for fourth on Denver's all-time scoring list. In addition, he still ranks in the top five in nearly every major scoring category in Nuggets history.

After the Nuggets acquired his draft rights in 1975, Thompson made an immediate impact. In his first year, he captured ABA and pro basketball Rookie of the Year honors after averaging 26.0 points per game. He was also named MVP of the 1976 ABA All-Star Game.

Nothing changed when the Nuggets entered the NBA. "DT" was named to the All-NBA First Team in 1977 and '78 and he made three-straight NBA All-Star appearances, earning MVP honors in the 1979 contest. He is the only player to ever be named MVP in both an ABA and NBA All-Star game.

On April 9, 1978, the 6'4" guard poured in a career-high 73 points against the Detroit Pistons. The 73 points are a Nugget single-game record and are tied for the third-most ever scored by an individual in a non-overtime game in NBA history.

Thompson was traded to Seattle in the summer of 1982, ending his illustrious seven-year career in Denver. DT was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1996.

2 ALEX ENGLISH

Jersey Number Retired: March 2, 1993

Alex English's career can best be summed up with one word: consistency. In 10 of his 11 seasons with the Nuggets (1979-90), English averaged better than 21 points per game. In eight of those 11 years, he scored more than 25 per game.

When he departed as a free agent in 1990, English left as the Nuggets all-time leading scorer - having notched 21,645 points - and his career average of 25.9 ppg is the best in Nuggets history. He also ranks 13th on the NBA's all-time scoring list.

The eight-time NBA All-Star is also the Nuggets career leader in games played, minutes played, field goals made, field goals attempted and assists. Additionally, he ranks third in steals, fourth in rebounds and fifth in blocked shots.

In each of his first 10 seasons with the Nuggets, English finished among the top 10 in the NBA in scoring. In 1982-83, he became the first and only Nugget to lead the league in scoring with a 28.4 average. English also holds the distinction of leading the NBA in scoring during the decade of the '80s, after compiling 19,682 points.

A second-team All-NBA member in 1982, '83 and '86, English guided the Nuggets to Division championships in 1984-85 and '87-88.

Also a leader in the community, English was presented the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for community service in 1988. In 1985, he convinced NBA players to donate their shares from the All-Star game to Interaction Ethiopia, a relief fund.

He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1997.

432 DOUG MOE

Jersey Number Retired: November 7, 2002

Doug Moe was the face and personality of the Nuggets throughout the '80s - one of the most successful eras in club history - serving as the team's charismatic head coach from 1980-90.

On Dec. 18, 1980, Moe assumed head coaching duties following the departure of Donnie Walsh. Over the next 10 years, he racked up 432 regular season wins and 24 postseason victories - both team records. He guided the Nuggets to nine-straight playoff appearances, including a trip to the 1985 Western Conference Finals, and two Midwest Division titles in '84-85 and '87-88. In '87-88, the Nuggets won a franchise-record 54 games, earning Moe NBA Coach of the Year honors.

Moe's "passing game" offense was one of the most feared in the NBA during the '80s. The Nuggets averaged no fewer than 114.6 ppg in each of his years and averaged better than 120.0 ppg for five-straight seasons ('80-85). In fact, the Nuggets led the NBA in scoring in six of Moe's 10 years in Denver.

Moe's clubs produced 13 All-Star selections and three of his players, David Thompson, Dan Issel and Alex English, have been inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Affectionately known as the "Big Stiff", Moe began his career with the Nuggets in the ABA as an assistant coach on Larry Brown's staff from '74-76. During those two seasons, the Nuggets posted a 125-43 record and advanced to the 1976 ABA Finals.

He also served as head coach of the San Antonio Spurs ('76-80) and Philadelphia 76ers ('92-93) and compiled 628 career wins, the 20th-most in NBA history.

DAVID THOMPSON'S 73-POINT GAME

On April 9, 1978, David Thompson became just the second player in NBA history (Wilt Chamberlain) to score more than 72 points in a game as he hit for 73 against the Detroit Pistons on the final day of the regular season at Detroit's Cobo Arena.

DT broke the NBA record for points in a quarter (32 in the 1st) and field goals in a quarter (18 in the 1st).

His 73 points still stand as the most scored by an individual in Nuggets history and are the third-most (Wilt Chamberlain, 100, Kobe Bryant, 81) ever scored in a non-overtime game in NBA annals.

Despite DT's heroics, the Nuggets lost, 139-137.

HIGHEST SCORING GAME IN NBA HISTORY

An unassuming crowd of 9,655 fans filed into McNichols Arena on Dec. 13, 1983, unaware that they were about to witness NBA history.

On this winter night, the Pistons and Nuggets battled back-and-forth in one of the most exciting games of all time. Detroit, led by All-Star guard Isiah Thomas' 47 points, overcame a horrendous night at the foul line (37-60) and outlasted the Nuggets, 186-184, in triple overtime. The game still stands as the highest scoring contest in league history.

What makes that mark even more incredible is that only two three-point field goals were made the entire night.

In all, six NBA records were broken including: most points, both teams, game (370); most points, one team, game (Detroit, 186); most players with 40-or-more-points, game (4); most field goals made, both teams, game (142); most field goals made, one team, game (Detroit, 74) and most assists, both teams, game (93).

All six still stand today.

COMMUNITY & GENERAL INFORMATION

NUGGETS COMMUNITY OUTREACH

The Denver Nuggets are committed to improving the lives of families and children in Colorado through a comprehensive program of education, health and fitness, community initiatives and special events. Our players, coaches and staff are active participants in the community, dedicating over 1,000 hours of their time off the court to visiting schools, hosting youth basketball clinics, lifting the spirits of young patients in the hospital and attending fundraising events that benefit Kroenke Sports Charities.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The Denver Nuggets are proud to support a number of youth programs that focus on education, health & fitness and teamwork. Every year, players and coaches can be found in the classroom using basketball principles to get students excited about school. The team is also committed to helping children with health and athletic programs by having the players and coaches share their knowledge about fitness and nutrition. The education, health & fitness and athletic programs of the Denver Nuggets include:

Denver Nuggets Math Hoops

Math Hoops is a fast paced basketball board game that allows students to learn fundamental math skills through direct engagement with real player statistics of their favorite NBA and WNBA players.

Nugget for a Day

This program provides an opportunity for deserving children to spend a day as a special guest of the Denver Nuggets. The program includes an exclusive behind the scenes tour of Pepsi Center, invitation to a closed Nuggets practice, game tickets, dinner in a suite and special recognition at the game.

Team Fit

This program encourages children in grades 3-8 in metro Denver to practice good fitness and nutrition fundamentals.

Denver Nuggets Community Ambassadors

Throughout the year, Denver Nuggets Community Ambassadors work with more than 30,000 people at approximately 30 monthly appearances in Colorado such as basketball skills clinics, fundraising events, sportsmanship – leadership – civic presentations and events.

The competition takes place at area elementary schools and more than 50 Colorado Parks and Recreation Centers across the state.

Junior Nuggets

The Denver Nuggets are proud to provide opportunities for kids to play the game of basketball. The Junior Nuggets program will be offered to area youth basketball leagues including Parks and Recreation centers, competitive leagues and a number of other leagues throughout the region. Participants receive a Jr. Nuggets jersey, ticket components, fundraising nights, skills clinic instruction by Nuggets players / coaches / Ambassadors.

Player Clinics

Denver Nuggets players, Community Ambassadors and coaches provide youth basketball players throughout the state with clinics designed to improve skills, teach life lessons and learn the basics of the game.
